Do lemons go bad if frozen?

Properly stored, they will maintain the best quality for about 3 to 4 months but will remain safe beyond that time. The freezer time shown is for best quality only - lemons that have been kept constantly frozen at 0° F will keep safe indefinitely.

Why should you always freeze your lemons?

People do often use cooked lemon rinds in cakes and muffins, but the cooking process can cause the lemon to lose up to 40 percent of its properties. Freezing the lemon ensures that all of the best lemons have to offer is conserved, plus lemon ice cubes taste pretty good.

How do you defrost frozen lemons?

To thaw, microwave for a few seconds, or place the lemons in cold water for 10 to 15 minutes. Slice the lemon and juice. To freeze whole lemons that you've grated the zest from, wrap them in plastic wrap or aluminum foil to prevent drying out.
