Ginger overall trading is not active

Detail Introduction :

Since March, the domestic epidemic has broken out again. More than half of the provinces have conf cases of the new crown, with the most serious areas in Jilin and Shanghai.

At present, the number of confirmed cases in Shanghai is increasing by nearly 1,000, and the numbe asymptomatic infections is increasing by more than 20,000. The situation is not optimistic. Of course, outbreak also involves Shandong Province, with confirmed cases in 15 cities. As the main ginger-proc area, Weifang has not been able to escape this epidemic.

Although the local ginger market is still trading now, the overall transaction is not active. On the one h ginger farmers are still reluctant to sell because the price is too low; on the other hand, because the b farming season has not yet ended, ginger farmers have no intention of selling goods; on the other ha to the blockade of some areas due to the epidemic, they cannot go to the market to sell goods.

Now the prices of vegetables and other foods in the market have risen compared to some time ago, a vegetables in the producing areas can only be sold cheaply. The epidemic has affected production an with high-speed closures in some areas and poor logistics and transportation. At the same time, logis transportation costs have also begun to rise.
