

Poland: "Dry snacks preserve the taste of fresh fruit and vegetables"

Detail Introduction :

According to Polish trader Ewa-Bis, "We have started to manufacture a range of tube-shaped, dry, undehydrated snacks that successfully retain the flavor and essence of fruits and vegetables. All snacks are natural, free of preservatives, and packaged in an easy-to-carry jar. "

Dried fruits and vegetables are the latest additions to last year's Madrid Fruit Show. Fresh tube snacks contain a mix of various fruits and vegetables, such as cherry tomatoes, blueberries, grapes, etc. The combination possibilities are endless, Anna says, and vary from season to season, with snacks with a shelf life of five to seven days.

"We are now busy developing the last stage of the snack tube, which is suitable for the freezer department. The freezer tube can be filled with fruits such as mango, blueberry, and strawberry, with vanilla or chocolate sauce, suitable for customers who want a sweet taste or add to ice cream or yogurt for a delicious dessert."
